NORMAN COLLINS, II
Keyboardist

A native of Clarksdale, MS, Norman Collins, II grew up a preachers kid and at the age of 11, started playing piano for his fathers church. After becoming Minister of Music at the age of 16, Norman hosted his first city wide gospel music worship at the age of 17. While serving our county in the US Army, Norman accepted his call to preach while still serving as the worship leader his local church in 2009. Since then, Norman has had the privilege of playing and/or singing with some of gospel music's top singers like, Jakayln Carr, Johnathan Nelson, Leandrea Johnson, Benjamin Cone, III, Bishop William Murphy, Tye Tribbett and many others. Norman now serves as an associate minister and Minister of Music at Seven Springs United Methodist Church under the leadership of Dr. Marcus Thompson and the South Jackson Seventh Day Adventist Church.
